2017 Lenten Study Series: Race and Faith

All Are Welcome to be a part of our Lenten offering, which is centered around the theme, Race & Faith, and is scheduled for Thursdays in Lent from 7 PM to 8:30 PM.

- We will consider how the promises we make at every Baptism are meant to affect our behavior.
- We will also discuss how we, as followers of Jesus Christ, are to think about race and about who is our neighbor.
- We expect other churches to join us during this series. Please invite your friends and neighbors, as they will be benefited by this experience, too.

March 16 Video “Traces of the Trade”; Filmmaker Katrina Browne learned that her slave-trading ancestors from Rhode Island were not an aberration. March 23 White Like Me; The video explores the many advantages afforded to whites throughout the history of the United States, and the extent to which they have defined a culture of racial discrimination that continues to this day. - Facilitated discussion

March 30 Where do we go from here? Discussion about what we have learned and what we need to do with this new awareness and understanding.

April 6 Community policing – Concord Police Detective Kevin Berg speaks with us about race and policing

Each pairing remains open for a set period of time and people vote for their favorite saint. 16 saints make it to the Round of the Saintly Sixteen; eight advance to the Round of the Elate Eight; four make it to the Faithful Four; two to the Championship; and the winner is awarded the coveted Golden Halo. Follow their progress each day at lentmadness.org

Vestry Person for the Month of March 2017 - Tina Luckey

I have recently graduated with my Master's in Organization Development at Queens University of Charlotte. I wanted to be an attorney when I was younger.

Since I was a child, my favorite movie has always been "Labyrinth." I watch it at least once a year. It taught me that while life may bring you challenges, you can overcome them by never giving up. Life is good when you have friends that you can count on. And I have two favorite books. One was a childhood favorite "Green Eggs and Ham" by Dr. Seuss. It taught me to try new food. You may like it. You may not. I love trying new food even today. As an adult my favorite book is "Daring Greatly" by Brene Brown. I enjoyed it because her research on vulnerability taught me the importance of vulnerability.

I have been a member of All Saints' for almost 8 years. Easter is my favorite season and John 3:16 my favorite scripture:

For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

The Path

I hope you are reading the wonderful bible stories in The Path. This past Saturday the Men's group had a marvelous discussion about Isaac, Jacob and Esau from Chapter 4. Immediately following we had our monthly work day with the focus on spreading gravel to create a walking path through our wooded area right behind the sanctuary.

Parish Workday Volunteers

Thanks to the volunteers for the work completed this past Saturday by Garen Livingston, Ben Smith, Don Foskey, Lee Cox, Ben Helms, Teri & Tommy Jones, Mike McDonough, Len Witke, Robbo Williams, Chris Charest, and myself. With the help of John Deere these 12 souls spread and tamped 16 tons of gravel in about 3 hours! We have started about one third of the total path which, once completed, will provide outdoor walking space not only for our parish but also our community neighbors. I believe one day it will draw new members to our church.

All Saints' has been working on this outdoor cathedral for several years now, starting with the clearing of an overgrown pine stand, removal of stumps, chipping of innumerable pine limbs, covering the cleared ground with mulch, clearing brush, cutting down damaged trees, installing drains, and trimming the never ending growth of weeds. The creation of The Path will open up this space to be developed into gardens featuring native plants and trees. The Path will create the structure from which the garden spaces can be designed, irrigated, and planted.

The Garden & Grounds of All Saints'

A friend gave me a lovely book by Stanley Kunitz, "The Wild Braid: A Poet Reflects on a Century in the Garden." Here are several quotes that speak to my soul and what we are creating with The Path and the garden.

"In the woods, one loses the sense of time. It's quite a different experience from walking the streets. The streets are human creations. In the woods what one finds are cosmic creations."

"I think of gardening as an extension of one's own being, something as deeply personal and intimate as writing a poem. The difference is that the garden is alive and it is created to endure just the way a human being comes into the world and lives, suffers, enjoys, and is mortal. The lifespan of a flowering plant can be so short, so abbreviated by the changing of the seasons, it seems to be a compressed parable of the human experience. The garden is, in a sense, the cosmos in miniature, a condensation of the world that is open to your senses. It doesn't end at the limits of your own parcel of land, or your own state, or your own nation. Every cultivated plot of ground is symbolic of the surprises and ramifications of life itself in all its varied forms . . ."

Come join us as we create The Path.

Faithfully, Mark D. Robinson
